

Foundation for Education and Development
Job Description

Position Opening: Native English Teacher

Start Date: As Soon As Possible

End Date: March 2015

Foundation for Education and Development (FED) is a Thai registered; Burmese led grassroots NGO based in Phang Nga Province, Southern Thailand. FED operates multiple programs which advocate for and provide support to the large Burmese Migrant living and working in Thailand. One of FED's main projects is providing education opportunities for Burmese Migrant children through multiple learning centers in the area. Without the education opportunities provided by FED learning centers these children would not be able to access education opportunities and would likely fall victim to child labor.

Currently FED is looking for a qualified, Native English Teacher to serve at our Unified Learning Center located in the Khao Lak, Phang Nga area for the 2014-15 academic year.

Basic Job Description:

- Provide Basic English Instruction for students ages K-8.
- Freedom to Develop Curriculum and teaching ideas to give the students a quality English education
- Help plan and facilitate School Camps and activities throughout the school year

Other possible Tasks:

- Support Education Management Team with the development and editing of Education program donor reports and other relevant documents.
- Support FED Development Director in Developing and Implementing Fundraising Strategies for the Education Program
